Subject: Policy on Public Participation in Permit Review Process DOC 012-0900-003

Dear Mr. Altenburg,

Please make your document easier to find for the public and please make the submission of comments easily available. Unless a person has access to the PA Bulletin, it is not easy or quick to find how to comment on this policy by using the PADEP website. The proposed policy should be listed in the first section that pops up when a person clicks on "Public Participation".

I also note that when the instructions noticed in the PADEP press release are followed, no results are found.

Also, the original notice had a link that was broken.

Also, the email address for you that is listed in the Bulletin under "Written Comments" is incorrect. In my conversation with you about this, you pointed out that you were recently made aware of this problem and that the second listing of your email address under "Contact" is correct. Unfortunately, most people will use the address that is listed as the address to file comments by email and that one is incorrect. These multiple problems with this notice about the proposed public participation policy make public participation difficult and is working against the public's involvement and our ability to take part in this important process.

These unfortunate circumstances warrant an extension of the policy comment period. We request an extension of 30 days of the comment period.

Thank you,

Tracy Carluccio
