

INFORMATION FOR WEST AMWELL RESIDENTS ON THE PENNEAST PIPELINE

The pipeline project will endanger families and the environment and can cause damage to wells and septic systems. The worst thing is that we really have no idea how bad it can be.

The project will cause significant negative impacts to important waterways, critical habitat, farmlands, wetlands and forests, especially the Sourland Mountain region and its environs.

The proposed pipeline will uproot trees, contaminate quality topsoil, cut through existing water sources and inevitably damage existing successful farms and forests in our region. The route appears to target preserved land.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Email FERC (Federal Regulatory Energy Commission):

The Sierra Club has made it easy to file a comment with FERC: See the link on our website, see details below.

Sign the petition to stop the pipeline:

See the link on our website.

Petition Delaware River Basin Commission for Jurisdiction over the PennEast Pipeline:

The Delaware River Basin Commission (DRBC) is the only agency with the legal authority to look at the cumulative impacts of the entire project as it cuts through the watershed, including passing from one state into another, and including how the harms of this project will be magnified by the impacts of other recent and proposed pipeline projects.
