FERC Has Announced:
Scoping Sessions for the PennEast Pipeline Project.

Please Plan to Attend and State Your Concerns about PennEast and tell them about the many ways your community will be impacted.

Environmental, health, economic, aesthetic, property values and quality of life issues are all among the issues that should be discussed and raised.

FERC describes the meetings as follows:

“The purpose of these scoping meetings is to provide the public an opportunity to learn more about the Commission’s environmental review process, and to verbally comment on the Project. Each scoping meeting will start at 6:00 pm and representatives from PennEast will be present one hour prior to the start of each meeting to answer questions about the Project. Affected landowners and interested groups and individuals are encouraged to attend the scoping meetings and present comments on the issues they believe should be addressed in the EIS. A transcript of each meeting will be added to the Commission’s administrative record to ensure that your comments are accurately recorded.”
